TALK OF THE TOWN

William Mitchell of North Main street, who has been employed as a barber in Ross' Depot square shop, completed his duties Saturday night and is to be employed in the Chalmers agency at the Palace garage.

Lay services at the Church of the Good Shepherd Sunday morning included a report of the triennial convention of the Protestant Episcopal church by F. G. Howland, one of the four lay delegates who represented the diocese of Vermont in the recent convention at St. Louis, Mo. Owing to the absence of the rector, Rev. W. J. M. Beattie, who was called to Canada last week by the illness of his sister, evening services at the church were omitted.

An aged and infirm horse which came out of the East Montpelier road Friday and remained at large until Saturday forenoon, was turned over to the police when residents of Brook street and Maple avenue failed in their effort to locate its owner. Bereft of a harness and robe, the wanderer roamed at will over the fourth ward for nearly two days before someone thought of the poundkeeper. When Chief Sinclair went to Brook street to get the horse the animal seemed to be near the point of expiring and at Maple avenue it refused to budge beyond a certain point. Whereupon the officer, taking judicial notice of the animal's decrepit condition, put an end to its career without parley. If anyone who reads these lines to a horse suspects that the animal may have been his own he is asked to communicate with police headquarters.

Friends and fellow citizens of Goose Green and Squag Hollow, your presence is earnestly solicited at the calico ball. Howland hall, Nov. 24. The mayor of Goose Green has been invited to make a few opening remarks, to be followed by old and new dances until 1 o'clock—adv.

With football practice still being held at Goddard in anticipation of a game with Colby academy, basketball will be delayed another week, as several of the members of the quintet are on the football squad. It is the present idea of Coach Hoernle of the basketball team to form a league of four teams in the school and to play a schedule of games in the practice and pick his varsity five from the league in this way and he can give a larger number of men a chance to show their basketball ability, whereas he could not with a squad of two teams.

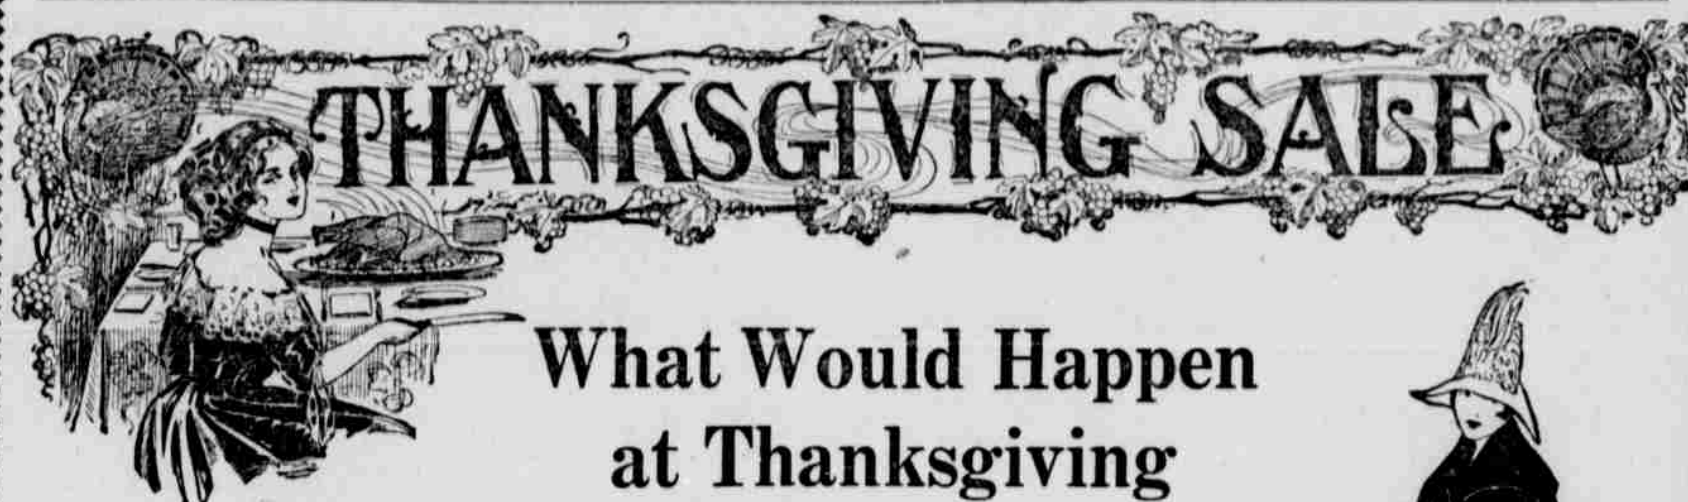

Godard's baseball prospects brightened up quite a bit Saturday when Coach Hoernle received letters from several baseball stars among schoolboy circles, signifying their intentions to enroll at Goddard during the first week of the winter term. Among them is Walter Shay, brother of the famous "Marty," who played on the Goddard and St. Johnsbury teams last summer. Walter played on the Dorchester high school team last spring and covered himself with glory on several occasions, with some of his lightning-like work in the field. He also comes to Goddard with a good reputation as a slugger. Hetherington, a southpaw pitcher, from Framingham high, thinks he will be here at the beginning of next term. Hetherington played with St. Johnsbury for a few days last summer and showed some marked ability in his headwork in handling his batters. John Jacobs is another man whom Coach Hoernle heard from. Jacobs played with several Montreal teams last summer and plays the fastest game in the outfield that any man played against St. Johnsbury last summer, according to Coach Hoernle.

Monday Special

LOGGIE'S EAGLE BRAND BLUEBERRIES
One of the best brands packed; to-day 2 cans for 25c
(Only 4 cans to a customer.)

When flour, lard, sugar, milk and the paper that Bread is wrapped in reach the present prices, which average 100 per cent. advance, it is necessary for the baker to do one of two things: either cut the size of the loaf and cut the quality by using cheaper flour, less lard and milk, etc., or get more for the Bread.

We do not care to put out an inferior loaf of Bread, nor do we believe that it is good economy for the customer to buy a cheaper loaf. We have decided to increase the weight of the loaf and charge 12c.

We also make a slight increase on Pastry, for the same reasons.

You can always depend on getting the same real value in these goods.
